Dear Noémi,

Letter of Congratulations

Congratulations on achieving this significant milestone in graduating as an AWS Cloud Engineer from the Digital Futures Academy.

You have proven your level of technical proficiency and been a proactive and positive member of the cohort, providing excellent support to your colleagues, setting goals and achieving them repeatedly.

We do not underestimate the challenge learning remotely, with limited physical engagement, has presented. However, it is my conviction that in difficult times, true character and leadership is revealed.

I encourage you to be such a leader – in your home, workplace, and community. Even the smallest act of kindness or support can have a significant impact on the lives of others.

As you now prepare to enter the workforce as a Digital Futures Engineer, you should do so with confidence, knowing that your achievements, hard work and commitment will guide you to future success.

Finally, I would like to remind you of our values at Digital Futures. These values bind us as an organisation, underpin our unique culture and are upheld by our colleagues at all times.

Our Values

1. We face into challenges with confidence, stay the course and pursue the right thing always
2. We evolve constantly and are relentless in our endeavour to create opportunity for others
3. We reject traditional thinking, embrace innovation, and focus on the art of the possible
4. We are united by a desire to make a positive impact and improve the communities we serve

I wish you the best of luck. Go forward with a full heart in everything you do, and thank you for putting your trust in Digital Futures.

Kind regards,

Scott Vincent
